Helping your Student with

Final Exams

One of the most stressful times of the year is upon all students. However, final exams can be less stressful with a plan. Here are some questions to ask your student to help them be more proactive during the exam period.

1. Do you know the dates and times of your final exams/projects? Do you know how the professor prefers you turn in your final assignments?
2. Do you have healthy food options in your Residence Hall? Or Do you have enough meals left on your dining plan?
3. Have you mapped out your study schedule? Does it include time at the Fitness Center or social events?
4. Do you know about the extended hours of the Salmon Library?
5. Do you have a classmate to study with you?
6. What do you hope to earn in each of your classes?
