Spring 2010 DL Course Listing

CoE supports the offering of a number of academically challenging DL courses and programs. Below is a list of the currently scheduled courses scheduled to be offered via DL in the Spring 2010 semester. We are constantly expanding our course offerings to best meet the needs of our students. If you have a request for a program that is not currently offered, please email us here with that request.

For updated information on the schedule, we encourage UAH students to check out the Student Access link to the schedule, available here:

Simply select the academic term in which you are interested, then use the selection filters to search by discipline, course level, etc.

College of Engineering

CPE 648 Advanced Computer Networks
Monday & Wednesday, 12:45 – 2:05, EB 122
Dr. David Pan
(256) 824-6642, dwp@ece.uah.edu

CPE 658 Software Engineering Studio II
Tuesday & Thursday, 12:45 – 2:05, EB 122
Dr. Jeffrey Kulick
(256) 824-6049, kulick@ece.uah.edu

EE 629 Analytical & Computing Methods in Electr. Eng.
Tuesday & Thursday, 12:45-2:05, EB 122
Dr. Mark Tillman
(256) 824-6316, randall.tillman@uah.edu

EM 664 Teams in Action
Tuesday & Thursday, 3:55 – 5:15, TH N145
Dr. Dawn Utley
(256) 824-6075, utley@ise.uah.edu

EM 760 Engineering Management Structures & Systems
Tuesday, 3:55 – 6:50, TH N140
Dr. Dawn Utley
(256) 824-6075, utley@ise.uah.edu

EM/ISE 761 Evolving Theory Eng Mgmt
On Campus Attendance Required
Monday, 9:30 -3:30, TH N142
Dr. Phillip Farrington
(256) 824-6474, dean@eng.uah.edu

EM 766 Managing Change in High Tech Organizations
Thursday, 3:55-6:50, TH N140
Dr. Donald Tippett
(256) 824-6895, tippett@ise.uah.edu

ISE 439a (321) Engineering Economy
Tuesday & Thursday, 3:55-5:15, TH S105
Dr. Paul Componation
(256) 824-6738, pjc@ise.uah.edu

ISE 439b (390) Probability & Engineering Statistics
Tuesday & Thursday, 2:20-3:40, TH N142
Dr. Julie Fortune
(256) 824-6314, Julie.Fortune@uah.edu

ISE 503 Human Factors Psychology
Tuesday & Thursday, 2:20-3:40, TH N153
Dr. Marita O'Brien mao0005@uah.edu
(256) 824-2318

ISE 523 Statistical Quality Control
Tuesday & Thursday, 5:30-6:50, TH N155
Dr. Sampson Gholston
(256) 824-7310, gholston@ise.uah.edu

College of Business

ECN 600 Foundations of Economics
Dr. Jack Schnell

MGT 511 Supply Chain Management
Tues. & Thurs., 3:55-5:15, TH N155
Dr. Gregory Harris
(256) 824-6060, harrisg@uah.edu

MGT 600 Organizational Theory, Behavior, & Environment
Wednesday, 5:30-8:20, TH N153
Dr. Clinton Chadwick
(256) 824-6146, cc0002@uah.edu

MKT 600 Survey of Marketing Management
Dr. Brent Wren
(256) 824-6681, wrenb@uah.edu
Distance Learning Only

College of Science

CS 652 Object Oriented Analysis & Design
Tuesday & Thursday, 2:20-3:40, TH N155
Dr. Harry Delugach
(256) 824-6614, delugach@cs.uah.edu

Spring 2010 DL Course Listing, continued...

ISE 533 Production/Inventory Control Systems
Tuesday & Thursday, 3:55 – 5:15, TH N155
Dr. Gregory Harris
(256) 824-6060, harrisg@uah.edu

ISE 601 Intro to Probability and Statistics for Engineers
Monday & Wednesday, 3:55 – 5:15, TH N153
Dr. Frank Fogle
(256) 824-6256, dr.f.fogel@nasa.gov

ISE 690 Statistical Methods for Engineers
Tuesday & Thursday, 3:55 – 5:15, TH N142
Dr. Sampson Gholston
(256) 824-7310, gholston@ise.uah.edu

ISE 723 Engineering Economic Analysis
Monday & Wednesday, 3:55 – 5:15, TH N140
Dr. Gillian Nicholls
(256) 824-6637, gillian.nicholls@uah.edu

ISE 726 Systems Modeling
Monday & Wednesday, 3:55 – 5:15, TH N153
Dr. Sherri Messimer

DL Website Updates!

You may have noticed some changes to the Distance Learning website recently. We have been working to make improvements to our DL website by adding additional features and helpful documents. We now have a separate webpage available for DL Students as well as for DL Faculty Members. We will be working to continue to expand these 2 major areas to provide you with additional resources in the future. Is there something that you feel would be a useful addition to our website? Contact Dr. Sherri Restauri Carson at: srcarson@ise.uah.edu with your recommendation.

Distance Learning Full Program Offerings

Did you know that you may earn an entire degree through DL with UA Huntsville? Here is a current listing of the degrees available:

Engineering Management - MSE or Ph.D.

Industrial Engineering - MSE or Ph.D.

Missile Systems - MSE

Modeling & Simulation - MSE

Operations Research - MSOR

Rotorcraft Systems - MSE

Software Engineering—MSSE

Systems Engineering - MSE or Ph.D.

See our new DL Program & Courses webpage for additional information:

MSSE Offered through DL

The Master of Science in Software Engineering, offered through the Electrical & Computer Engineering Department and the Computer Science Department, was launched in the Fall 2009 via Distance Learning. This was in response to student needs and is open to computer engineers and computer scientists.

The MSSE prepares graduates at an advanced level for a professional career as a practicing software engineer in industry, business, or government. Course methodology, in addition to traditional lecture, includes significant amounts of practical experience in using modern software tools and techniques in a team environment.

This program is available to engineers and computer scientists who have the necessary background in programming. Graduate applications for admission to this program are available at: <http://www.engdl.uah.edu/> (under Related Materials at the bottom) or from our School of Graduate Studies <http://www.uah.edu/gradschool/> where you can apply online.

DL FACULTY SPOTLIGHT: Dr. Gillian Nicholls

“...be aggressive in keeping up with the material and asking for help when something isn’t clear. Being a DL student requires the individual to take a greater responsibility...”

—Dr. Gillian Nicholls

A native of Pennsylvania, Dr. Gillian Nicholls joined the faculty in ISEEM at UAH in the Fall 2009 term. She completed her undergraduate education at Lehigh University in Bethlehem, P.A., earning a B.S. in Industrial Engineering. Soon thereafter, she became employed by Consolidated Rail Corporation (Conrail) in Philadelphia, where she conducted numerous process improvement studies. Her first experience in teaching in academia was a one-year appointment in 2001 at Tennessee Technological University. She noted that this was her first time living in the South and though she never picked up a taste for grits, she did learn to appreciate the singular and plural forms of “Y’all.” She very much enjoyed the experience in academia and decided to pursue a doctorate in Industrial Engineering.

After returning to Pennsylvania, she studied with the University of Pittsburgh’s Industrial Engineering department. She conducted research into factors that predict students’ success in earning a degree in Science, Technology, Engineering, or Math. Dr. Nicholls earned her M.S. in Industrial Engineering in 2004, and her Ph.D. in 2008. Her research interests include statistical modeling and applications; transportation management and operations; and engineering education.

Dr. Nicholls will begin teaching DL for UAH in the Spring 2010 term. She noted in our interview that the range of technological tools for teaching has expanded greatly since her first teaching job in 2001. At that time, she had no access to a standard platform for creating a course website and relied solely on email for contacting students offline.

When she began teaching classes at University of Pittsburgh in 2008, she had access to the university’s course management system (CMS), Blackboard. With this system she posted lecture material, solution sets, announcements, grades, and also collected homework assignments. The functionality offered by ANGEL, the CMS used at UAH, is even greater. Dr. Nicholls began using it during her first term here with us in Fall 2009, with plans to utilize even more features in the future.

Teaching through DL will be a new experience for Dr. Nicholls; however, having used many of the related DL tools (smartboards; videoconferencing; CMS; etc.), she is looking forward to using the more advanced equipment offered by the DL classrooms at UAH for reaching out to her students. She anticipates the largest challenges will be getting used to interacting with students who view the lectures via CD or through streamed video, and ensuring that these students are integrated fully into the class. Her best advice for students participating via DL is to be aggressive in keeping up with the material and asking for help when something isn’t clear. Being a DL student requires the individual to take a greater responsibility for assessing how well he or she is doing. Professors rely a lot on seeing puzzled looks in class to realize that more clarification is required and that a particular student may need more help. It takes a committed mutual effort to make DL education work, so DL students should reach out to their professors when any information is unclear.

WELCOME, DR. NICHOLLS!

Important DL Student Information

PLEASE NOTE:

Distance Learning students must register and drop/add courses through the Distance Learning Administrative Office.
Technology Hall, N138
(256) 824-6976

Registration Procedures

- Complete registration form IN FULL each semester!
- Use your A Number (UAH ID number), not SSN.
- Signature at bottom of form is required.
- Late charges apply for all late registrations or late payments.
- If your company covers tuition, all information concerning billing must be included with registration.
- Student is responsible for obtaining required textbooks.

Email Accounts & Student Numbers

- If you do not know your assigned UAH email address, call Charger Central at (256) 824-7777.
- To obtain your UAH-assigned student "A number", call Ms. Dottie Luke at (256) 824-6976.

Tuition Payments

UAHuntsville no longer mails paper bills or final grades. Students may check bill statements and grades, as well as transcripts, by using UAH Student Banner system. To do so:

- Go to <http://register.uah.edu>
- Click on Enter Secure Area
- User ID is your student A number

First-time users: your PIN is your birthday (mmddyy). You will be asked to change your pin to a 6 digit number for security reason. You may then pay for your tuition online.

Parking Decals

Local DL students must go to the Intermodal Facility to obtain parking decals. On-campus students receive decals automatically via mail. All vehicles parking on campus at UAH must display a decal. More information is available here:

<http://police.uah.edu/parking.php#vehicle>

Distance Learning Procedures

- The DL lecture capture is typically posted within 1 hour after class.
- CDs are distributed to local DL student mailboxes in Technology Hall, N154, within 24 hours of the class, or sent to remote students via 2nd day air the next evening following the class.
- Assignments should be submitted either directly to the instructor via email or other designated delivery method, or to the DL office. Graded assignments will be returned via Angel, or via FedEx shipment.
- Exams are proctored from the DL office for local students. These should be scheduled through Ms. Dottie Luke (256) 824-6976 and are held every weekday starting at 9:30 am or 1:30 pm.
- Remote DL student exams must go through a designated proctor. Students are responsible for identifying the proper proctor at their location and submitting the proctor's name and contact information to Ms. Dottie Luke. She may be reached at (256) 824-6976, and at luke@eng.uah.edu.

ANGEL Help

Many of our DL faculty supplement their online lectures through the UA Huntsville Angel Course Management System. If you need technical assistance with the ANGEL Course Management System, contact the Technical Assistance Group (TAG) at (256) 824-3333, or email them at:

tag@uah.edu

Distance Learning Student News

We would like to congratulate the following DL students for their recent accomplishments.

THE FOLLOWING STUDENTS HAVE MET THE REQUIREMENTS FOR THE PHD:

James O. Johnson of Tullahoma, TN. Dissertation Title: “The Empirical Relationship between the Level of Job Satisfaction and the Quality of Leader-Member Exchange in Engineers and Scientists at a Government Aerospace Facility.”

Everett Roper of Huntsville. Dissertation Title: The Relationship between Organizational Culture, Management Leadership Style and Organizational Commitment and Their Impact on Organizational Outcomes in a High-Technology Organization.

THE FOLLOWING STUDENTS HAVE PASSED THEIR PH.D. COMPREHENSIVE EXAMS:

Thomas Nance of Aiken, SC.
Heather Shar of Huntsville, AL.
Sushil Shetty of Huntsville, AL.
Craig Whittinghill of Bristow, VA.

THE FOLLOWING STUDENTS HAVE MET THE REQUIREMENTS FOR THE MSE:

Christopher “Drew” Cromer of Hanahan, SC. Capstone Title: “Implementation of Integrated Product Teams at a Government Organization.”

Joshua Meeks of Tracy City, TN. Capstone Title: “Using Performance Evaluation to Increase Job Satisfaction and Employee Retention.”

J. Devon Parker of Normandy, TN. Capstone Title: “Utilizing TQM Principles to Build a Safety Culture.”

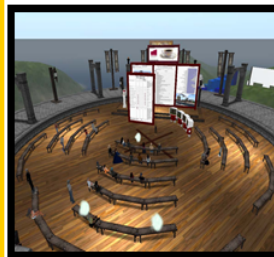

THE FOLLOWING STUDENT HAS MET THE REQUIREMENTS FOR THE MSOR:

Miguel A. Barrios of Windermere, FL. Thesis Title: “The Value of Speed in Heavy Lift Rotary Wing Survivability.”

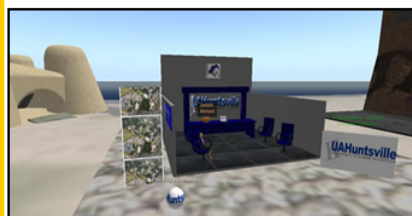

DL News

Important updates about the Distance Learning Program will be posted here throughout each term, so check back frequently for updates!

- Distance Learning at UAH celebrates the National Distance Learning Week during the week of November 9th through November 13th. This important recognition was formally recognized by the United States Distance Learning Association, and is in its 3rd year this year. During this week, unique opportunities for faculty, students, and administration will be made available for learning more about distance learning and educational technology implementations in K-12, Higher Education, Corporate, and Military branches. Please see <http://www.ndlw.org> for more information on upcoming online events and information sheets on this important week-long event.
- We are pleased to announce a successful event in the 2009 Second Life College Fair. This recruitment activity was UAH CoE's first venture into the virtual world of SL, with plans for expanding opportunities in the near future. Additional events such as this, as well as teaching and learning possibilities for students and faculty to participate in this exciting new UAH enterprise will be posted as they become available. See the pictures and captions below for some screenshots of the SL world.

A Second Life conference facility—similar to those planned for the UA Huntsville SL campus.
