

Christopher Paaymans

Graduate Research Assistant

Department of Mechanical and Aerospace Engineering

BIO:

Mr. Christopher Paaymans is currently pursuing a M.S.E. in Aerospace Systems Engineering. Upon completing his undergraduate education at UAH, Mr. Paaymans worked on a graduate research project on advanced machining concepts of high strength aerospace grade titanium alloys. He is currently working part time for HiTek Services, a local design firm located in Huntsville, and taking coursework in computer aided engineering, computational fluid dynamics, and advanced propulsion concepts. His research interests focus on engineering management, system requirements definition and integration, fluid dynamics, structural analysis, and large scale solid / liquid propellant systems.
