

UAH Honors College Special Seminars

SPRING 2020

HON 301 H2: Alternate Decisions of WWII

Dr. Andrei
Gandila
Thurs @ 11:20pm

Study major political and military decisions of WWII and ask “what-if” questions to understand how our world could have been one dominated by Nazi Germany.

HON 301 H3: Understanding Poverty in the US

Dr. Wafa Orman
Fri @ 9:40am

This service learning course covers legal, sociological, and economic perspectives on poverty in the United States. Team taught by faculty from several colleges. Students will work with SaveFirst of Alabama.

HON 301 H5: Philosophy of Star Wars

Joey Watson,
Thurs @ 1:00pm

Study Star Wars as a globally shared language and examine what it teaches us about topics such as religion, ethics, war, power, technology, justice, the environment and more.

HON 301 H4: Honors Study Abroad: Germany

Dr. Rolf Goebel,
M/W @ 11:20am

2-hour course with a 1-hour May-mester trip. Course requires application, and registration will follow acceptance to course. Topics of study will include: practical German vocab, German cultural history, architecture of Berlin and Munich, and more.

HON 399 H2: Introduction to Space Science

Dr. Ying Zou
Fri @ 1pm

Learn the basics of space science in this 3 hour course. Topics include: plasma as a 4th state of matter, cosmic rays, gamma rays and gamma ray bursts, and more!

Pre-Reqs: Cal C and Physics 112/115.

HON 301 H1: ISE 321 Supplement

Dr. Paul Collopy,
Mon @ 9:40am

Students must be concurrently enrolled or have completed ISE 321. Upon completion, earn 4 hours upper level Honors credit.

MAE 345 H1: Thermo. Colloquium

Dr. Keith Hollingsworth,
Fri @ 9:40am

Students must be concurrently enrolled or have completed MAE 341 (Thermo 1). Upon completion, earn 4 hours upper level Honors credit.

1 - H O U R S E M I N A R S