What is a HDHP?

A high deductible health plan (HDHP) is a health insurance plan with lower premiums and higher deductibles than a traditional health plan. It is intended to incentivize consumer driven healthcare. Being covered by a HDHP is a requirement for having a health savings account (HSA).

Health Savings Account HSA

- A HSA is a tax advantaged medical savings account available to those enrolled in a high deductible health plan (HDHP). These funds are available to pay for qualified medical expenses.
- Qualified medical is similar to FSA reimbursable expenses.
- HSA's offer triple tax savings:
 1. Pre-tax contributions from employee & employer
 2. Earnings on investments accumulate tax free
 3. Tax free distributions when paying for qualified expenses.
- HSA's are portable. The money belongs to the employee. Rolls over from year-to-year, unlike FSA.

Health Savings Account Eligibility

- You must be covered by UAH's qualifying HDHP.
- You cannot also be covered by a non-HDHP plan.
 - Example: You cannot be covered secondary on a spouse's PPO plan.
 - Example: You cannot be enrolled in Medicare.
- You cannot be listed as a dependent on another person's tax return.
- IRS considers child dependents up to age 24 if full-time student, but ACA allows children to remain on a parent's plan until age 26.
- You or your spouse cannot be enrolled in an FSA.

WHAT PLAN IS RIGHT FOR YOU?

HDHP

- Are you healthy?
- Can you afford the deductible and coinsurance?
- Are you willing to take risk?
- Are you interested in investing HSA funds?
- Not eligible for the HSA if you: have other insurance, can be claimed as a dependent, your spouse has an FSA

PPO

- Do you have a chronic condition?
- Are you planning for a hospital stay?
- What is your disposable income?
