MEMBER HANDBOOK

WELCOME

We have prepared this handbook to help you enjoy your OLLI at UAH membership to the fullest. OLLI at UAH is an organization for adults 50+ who enjoy learning and laughing through exciting educational face-to-face and online opportunities, industrial tours, day trips, travel and many other varied social and cultural activities. Never stop learning with your fellow OLLI at UAH members.

MISSION & BACKGROUND

OLLI at UAH operates under the direction of the M. Louis Salmon Library (LIB) and is housed in Wilson Hall on the UAH campus. OLLI at UAH is a volunteer-driven organization, which provides on-campus and online learning opportunities to enrich the lives of our members. Although lifelong learning is the goal of the program, opportunities for friendships, laughter, and being involved in fulfilling activities abound. At OLLI, we believe academic, physical, cultural, and social activities influence our “quality of life”; therefore, each semester is designed to provide a mixture of opportunities for engaging in a variety of activities.

UAH established an on-campus lifelong learning program in 1993. Originally called The Academy for Lifetime Learning, in 2005 the program was renamed Osher Lifelong Learning Institute at UAH when it became one of 125 lifelong learning programs on university and college campuses throughout the country endowed by the Bernard Osher Foundation. The Osher Foundation was established in San Francisco (1977) and works to improve the quality of life through support for higher education and the arts.

GETTING TO KNOW US

We value the shared knowledge, gifts and talents of our members, volunteer support, and a spirit of collaboration and cooperation among OLLI members and the UAH community.

Member interests are the driving influence for our outstanding curricula, and OLLI members are our primary teaching resource. OLLI courses are offered without grades, tests, or mandatory homework, and there are no prerequisites for participating except a desire to learn and grow. Our course offerings and instructors, coupled with the outstanding resources provided by UAH, provide a collective body of knowledge and talents to OLLI members.

Welcome to OLLI! Here, we have a vision: that OLLI @ UAH will be the pre-eminent source of lifelong learning in the region. An integral part of that vision is our sense of family. Our family believes in fellowship and bonding with others, and research has proven that those types of social interactions are two of the most significant factors in having a longer and healthier life. In my book, that's a "Win-Win!"

Thank you for joining the OLLI family. You're about to embark on a grand adventure. And who knows? You might learn something in the bargain. So next time you stop by the OLLI lounge for coffee, look me up. First cup's on me and I can't wait to share it with you. John Mason-Board President
