THE UNIVERSITY OF ALABAMA IN HUNTSVILLE

SUBSTANTIVE CHANGE POLICY

Number  02.01.53
Division  Academic Affairs
Date  August 2015, Reviewed and Revised August 24, 2022

Purpose  To establish a policy and procedures for identifying substantive changes and a process to ensure timely coordination and notification regarding same to the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools, Commission on Colleges (SACSCOC), and as appropriate, The University of Alabama Board of Trustees (Board), and the Alabama Commission on Higher Education (ACHE). A Substantive Change defined by SACSCOC is a significant modification/expansion of an institution’s role and scope in academic curriculum, policy, and/or operations to governing bodies outside the university.

Policy  The University is responsible for obtaining approval or informing, in advance, of any substantive changes in academic curriculum, policy and/or operations to governing bodies outside the University. These governing bodies include accrediting bodies, SACSCOC, the Board, ACHE, the State of Alabama Department of Education, and the State of Alabama Nursing Board. In addition, the UAH faculty, staff and students have an important role in developing, reviewing, and giving input on academic curriculum, policy and other substantive changes.

Procedure Definitions and Requirements

In its policy on Substantive Change for SACSCOC Accredited Institutions, SACSCOC defines substantive change broadly as any “significant modification or expansion of the nature and scope of an accredited institution.” The term “substantive change” includes items that are required by regulations of the U.S. Department of Education governing accrediting bodies of higher education institutions (34 CFR Sec. 602.22), as well as some additional items required by SACSCOC.

SACSCOC informs institutions of their institutional obligations:

1. “Member institutions are required to notify the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools Commission on Colleges (SACSCOC) of changes in accordance with the substantive change policy and, when required, seek approval prior to the initiation of changes."

2. “Member institutions are required to have a policy and procedure to ensure that all substantive changes are reported to the Commission in a timely fashion.”

“Substantive Change includes, but is not limited to:

- Changing the established mission or objectives of an institution.
- Merging two or more institutions.
- Adding, closing, or relocating an off-campus instructional site.
- Adding courses or programs at a higher or lower degree level.
- Adding a program that is a significant departure from existing programs.
- Adding an off-site location.
- Changing or adding a method of instructional delivery, e.g. online, face to face, or correspondence.
- Entering into a cooperative academic agreement.
- Adding competency-based education programs.
- Awarding dual or joint academic awards.
- Closing an institution, program, or method of delivery.
- A change from clock hours to credit hours.
- Entering into a written arrangement under 34 C.F.R. § 668.5 under which an institution or organization not certified to participate in the title IV Higher Education Act (HEA) programs offers less than 25% (notification) or 25-50% (approval) of one or more of the accredited institution's educational programs. An agreement offering more than 50% of one or more of an institution’s programs is prohibited by federal regulation.
- The establishment of a branch campus.

The federal government requires accreditation organizations to monitor the compliance of its member institutions with their substantive change policies and to grant permission for major changes to occur. Additionally, ACHE and the Board monitor the University’s substantive changes.

Current SACSCOC requirements, policies, and definitions including cases where approval is needed prior to implementation, can be found on the SACSCOC website (http://www.sacscoc.org).

The institution’s SACSCOC Liaison (appointed by the President) works with departments, colleges and other campus units to notify and remind them of their responsibilities for complying with this Policy. The SACSCOC
Liaison serves as a resource to the campus regarding Substantive Changes and ensures that information regarding this Policy, associated resources available from SACSCOC, and answers to questions are available to the campus community.
