Purpose The University of Alabama in Huntsville (“University”) is exposed to a financial risk from negligent/wrongful acts when Third Party Entities and other entities and individuals not covered by University insurance programs use facilities and/or grounds owned by or under the control of the University. To reduce this financial exposure, the University requires Third-party Entities and other entities and individuals not covered by University insurance programs using University facilities and/or grounds to maintain insurance to reasonably protect the financial interests of the University. Some of the activities that may give rise to financial exposure include, but are not limited to:

Policy

Subject to the exceptions described in this Policy, all Third-party Entities and other entities and individuals not covered by University insurance programs hosting events and/or conducting operations at the facilities or on the grounds owned or operated by the University must provide evidence of comprehensive general liability insurance and may also be required to offer evidence of automobile liability and workers’ compensation insurance.

Where the financial exposure is deemed either insignificant or more significant, the University’s Office of Risk Management and Compliance (ORMC) will review the proposed operation or activity and may require or make adjustments to the insurance requirements to fit the situation.

This Policy does not apply to University-sponsored public events such as scheduled sporting events (including pre/post game activities) and other University-sponsored events unless an outside Third-party Entity or non-University organization or individual will provide a service or conduct some form of activity which poses an increased risk not typically associated with events which are social or educational in nature (refer to above list for examples) and which may include the preparation, service, and/or consumption of food and beverages.

This Policy does not apply to business meetings and casual gatherings that do not involve any notable activities (refer to list above for examples) and do not involve large crowds (over 100 persons) and are largely held in the form of a seminar, educational session, reception, or display of goods/services (without demonstration).

General Insurance Requirements

Unless adjusted or waived by the ORMC, Third-party Entities and other non-University organizations and individuals not covered by University insurance programs must obtain and maintain in force for the duration of the event or activity the following insurance coverages:

Insurance Requirement Review and Modifications

In certain cases, the University’s ORMC may waive, reduce, increase, or allow exceptions to the general insurance requirements listed above. For the sake of example only, but not in limitation, a basis for an adjustment to the insurance requirements might include the following:

1. Entities with the financial strength to self-insure part or all of insurance requirements outlined above as evidenced in audited financials reflecting a net worth adequate to absorb self-insured losses.

2. If an entity elects to participate in a self-insured workers’ compensation program, the insurance requirement may be waived if the self-insured entity or group trust is in good standing with the authorizing agency.

3. If an individual or entity is exempted from the workers’ compensation statutory requirements due to the limited number of employees, the coverage requirement may be waived if the event or activity does not otherwise generate a risk or hazard which the University ORMC deems unacceptable. A waiver and/or release of liability may be required if a workers’ compensation exemption is allowed.

4. Any entity or group associated or affiliated with the State of Alabama or a United States governmental agency is typically exempt from all insurance requirements. The University’s ORMC will review on a case-by-case basis requests by other governmental entities (e.g., municipalities) seeking such an exemption.

Requests for review and/or modification of insurance requirements must be submitted in writing to riskmanagement@uah.edu.
