

The Elizabeth M. Jones English Language Scholarship

The Elizabeth M. Jones English Language Scholarship is given to an undergraduate English major, with preference to residents of the State of Alabama who demonstrate academic merit, leadership potential, contributions to University and community, and a desire to teach English Language at the secondary level.

The scholarship was established in 2005 by Raymond B. Jones in honor of his wife, Elizabeth M. (“Libby”) Jones, to benefit students at the University of Alabama in Huntsville.

This scholarship is renewable for up to three additional years. The student must maintain a full-time course load (12 credit hours) each semester. In addition, recipients must complete a total of 24 credit hours each academic year and have a cumulative GPA of 3.0 or higher to be eligible for renewal. Students should submit a scholarship application every year in order to update their files and possibly be eligible for other awards.
