What is an Academic Advisor?

Your academic college provides dedicated staff to help you plan your academic career. Academic advisors can help with course selection, degree planning, and understanding the academic requirements needed to graduate. They can also provide guidance on career goals, campus resources, and strategies for academic success. Find your academic advisor at uah.edu/academic-advising.

What is a College Dean?

The dean of your academic college will work to create a positive learning environment within the college and advocate for the needs of both students and faculty. Their job is to ensure the quality of education, manage faculty and staff, and develop policies to support your academic success. You can turn to your dean with questions about academic concerns or program policies.

What is a Syllabus?

Your syllabus will contain the class schedule, course objectives, required materials, and grading policies for each of your registered courses. It can serve as a guide to help you understand what is expected of you during the semester and how to manage your time effectively.

Make sure you check your syllabus regularly for important assignments, tests, and deadlines!

DISABILITY SUPPORT SERVICES

Did you have a 504 plan or an IEP in high school? You may be eligible to apply for reasonable accommodations with Disability Support Services with the appropriate supporting documentation from your doctor or provider.

Disability Support Services provides academic, housing, and meal plan accommodations on campus. We work with you to understand your strengths, identify and reduce your barriers, and determine reasonable accommodations through an interactive process so you can access your education as you work toward your goals.

While the ADA and Section 504 guarantee equal access, individual success is the responsibility of each student on the college level.

ACADEMIC SUCCESS ADVOCACY PROGRAM (ASAP)

Your advocate is here to help you succeed – not just in your classes, but in life. Whether you're refining existing skills or building new ones, we'll work together to create an action plan that sets you up for long-term success. We focus on what works for you, tapping into your strengths and what motivates you, and using that as a foundation to develop habits that deliver real results.

Starting college is a big transition, and things don't always go according to plan. If you encounter bumps along the way, your advocate has your back – helping you navigate obstacles and find solutions that work for you. Our advocates are experienced professionals who know UAH inside and out and are dedicated to your success.

Students commonly reach out to their advocates for support with time management, balancing academics with other commitments, recovering from a challenging grade, exploring major changes, or managing personal circumstances that might impact their studies.

All new students are invited to explore the resource pages designed to support you throughout your journey, including self-advocacy tools, helpful checklists, and more.

SEXUAL HARASSMENT, SEXUAL VIOLENCE, AND CONSENT

Stopping sexual harassment, sexual assault, dating violence, domestic violence, and stalking before they happen requires that we work together to support healthy and safe behaviors and environments.

As such, UAH requires that all new students attend a presentation during the Week of Welcome entitled Title IX and Consent: Everything You Should Know About Sexual Harassment, Sexual Violence, and Campus Safety and complete the following online training courses:

- ▶ Alcohol Awareness and Prevention: Know Your Limit
- ▶ Healthy Relationships and Dating Violence
- ▶ Show Some Respect! Prevent Harassment: Harassment/Respect Among Peers
- ▶ Impressions: Protecting Our Campus from Sexual Assault
- ▶ Instructions for the online training will be sent to your UAH email account.

UAH has sex discrimination and sexual violence complaint reporting procedures that are designed to stop the reported conduct, prevent its reoccurrence, correct and address its effects, and, when warranted, impose consequences and remedies. Students are afforded confidential and non-confidential reporting options. Those affected by incidents of sex discrimination and sexual violence are offered individualized services to ensure your safety and to support your efforts to continue to participate in your education programs and activities.

For more information about sex discrimination and sexual violence or to file a report, contact the Title IX Coordinator by email at titleix@uah.edu, by telephone at 256.824.7854, online at uah.edu/makeareport, or by visiting Shelbie King Hall, Room 357/358.

TITLE IX AND EQUAL OPPORTUNITY

All students, faculty, staff, and guests to UAH are protected from discriminatory conduct based on race, color, religion, national origin, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, pregnancy, age, disability, and veteran status.

UAH is committed to responding promptly and effectively when it becomes aware of reported discriminatory conduct and has complaint reporting procedures that are designed to stop the reported conduct, prevent its reoccurrence, correct and address its effects, and when warranted, impose consequences and remedies.

Complaints/reports of discrimination can be filed with the Office of Title IX & Equal Opportunity or at uah.edu/makeareport.

PREGNANCY AND PARENTING

UAH prohibits discrimination based on pregnancy and provides support to students who are pregnant and/or experiencing pregnancy-related medical conditions.

That support is designed to ensure that you are able to make decisions as to how you want to continue to participate in your education.

The Office of Title IX & Equal Opportunity will assist you in obtaining reasonable modifications, which range from providing you additional time to make up missed assignments and exams, to changing the physical environment, to ensuring that you are not penalized for pregnancy-related medical absences.
