

Freelance Writers and Interns Needed

The Hartselle Enquirer is looking for potential freelance writers and interns.

Students studying English, communications or other areas of journalism would be prime candidates for these positions. Internships would be unpaid, but we offer competitive per article rates for freelance writers.

The ideal student for these roles would be a/an:

- communications or journalism major
- upperclassman
- student with excellent work ethic
- student with a 3.0 GPA or higher

Any students who would benefit from working in a newsroom for a weekly newspaper and bimonthly magazine, and meet the criteria, can contact our Hartselle office at (256) 773-6566.
