

Glenda Bridges Mitchell, Ph.D.

Education:

2003

University of Georgia, Athens, Georgia
PhD in American History Awarded August 2003
Major Field: American History Since 1877
Minor Fields: Middle Eastern History
Religious History

1997

Western Carolina University, Cullowhee, North Carolina
Master of Arts Awarded May 1997
Major Field: American History
Minor Field: European History

1995

Gardner-Webb University, Boiling Springs, North Carolina
Bachelor of Arts Awarded August 1995, Magna Cum Laude
Major Field: History
Minor Field: Political Science

Selected Work Experience:

January 2015-present

University of Alabama Huntsville
Huntsville, AL
Adjunct History Instructor
Responsible for designing both traditional and online courses in World and United States History

August 2012-
Present

Calhoun Community College
Huntsville, AL
Social Sciences Department Chair
History Instructor, Distance Education
Responsible for all aspects of designing and teaching blended and online courses in World and United States History.

January 2001-
May 2012

Louisiana School for Math, Science, and the Arts
Natchitoches, LA
Instructor of History/
Served as Humanities Department Chair (August 2004-Spring 2009)

January 2006-
May 2013

Louisiana Virtual School
Online Adjunct Instructor of History
Responsible for all aspects of teaching Dual Enrollment US
History and Government

Selected Professional Development Activities:

1/2021	ACCS Diversity Training
1/2016	Quality Matters Training Calhoun Community College
7/2015	Using Vital Source to Your Advantage University of Phoenix Online Workshop
9/2014	Quality Matters Online Course Seminar Calhoun Community College
9/2013	Dynamic Discussion in the Classroom University of Phoenix Online Workshop
11/2012	Technology, Teaching and Universal Design EdTech Online Programs
08/2012	“Best Practices for Online Course Management” Calhoun Community College
11/2010	National Board for Professional Teaching Standards Certification Area: Adolescent and Young Adult Social Studies- History
June 2009	Northwestern State University, Natchitoches, LA Graduate Coursework in Education Curriculum and Instruction Program, six hours completed
July 2009	Creole Heritage and Culture Workshop Creole Heritage Center, Northwestern State University Natchitoches, LA Attended workshop designed to introduce new methods for secondary school teachers to integrate multicultural education into the classroom
Spring 2005- 2012	Louisiana Endowment for the Humanities RELIC (Readings in Literature and Culture) program. Served as a scholar for the following six-week community programs: “Where is North Louisiana?” “Creole Identity and Experience in Louisiana Literature and History”

“Folktales and Stories of the South and Louisiana”
“Louisiana History: Perspectives on the Pelican State”

Courses with Previous Teaching Experience :

Abrahamic Faiths
Advanced American History to 1865 (traditional, blended and online courses)
Advanced American History since 1865 (traditional and online courses)
American Government (online course)
American Religious History
Gender Studies
Modern Middle East
Western Civilizations
World History (traditional, blended and online courses)
World Religions (online course)

Grants Awarded:

Spring 2009	Recipient of the Richard G. Brown Fund for Faculty Advancement Grant
Spring 2009	Recipient of the Louisiana Department of Education’s Subsidy Grant for National Board Certification
Spring 2001	Recipient of the Richard G. Brown Fund for Faculty Advancement Grant

Presentations and Publications:

Book Review Contributor to Religious Studies Review.

“Oh, the Things You Can Think:” Teaching Historical Analysis through the Works of Dr. Sesus. Paper Presented at the Future of History Conference, Decatur, Alabama, June 2015.

“I Surrender All’: United Pentecostal Women and the Power of Submission,” Paper presented at Southern Historical Association, Memphis, Tennessee, November 2004.

“Healing Hands: The Power of Faith Healing in Louisiana’s Pentecostal Culture,” Paper presented at Louisiana Historical Association, Lafayette, Louisiana, March 2003.

“Redefining Religion: Alexander J. McKelway and the Social Gospel.” Paper presented at “New Perspectives in Southern History,” Auburn University, Auburn, Alabama, May 1997.

“The Significance of Service: Alexander J. McKelway and the Social Principles of Jesus.” Paper presented at “Telling About the South,” University of Virginia, Charlottesville, Virginia, March 1997.

References:

Dr. Waymon Burke
History Instructor
Calhoun Community College
102 Wynn Dr. NW
Huntsville, AL 35805
web@calhoun.edu
256-890-4737

Dr. James Findley
History Instructor, Former Director of Academic Affairs
LSMSA
715 University Parkway
Natchitoches, LA 71457
jfindley@lsmsa.edu
(318) 357-2525 (Office)

Dr. Issac Sakyi-Addo
Chair of Social Sciences
Calhoun Community College
102 Wynn DR NW
Huntsville, AL 5803
Isakyi-addo@calhoun.edu
(940)367-2074

Mrs. Leah Vallely
History Instructor
Calhoun Community College
102 Wynn Dr. NW
Huntsville, AL 35805
lcv@calhoun.edu
(256) 890-4758