Summary

My name is Nichole Hart, I use Nico as my alias. I am both a Virginia Tech and Savannah College of Art Design (SCAD) alumni, with my studies focusing on storytelling/design within animation and sequential art. I am fascinated with the story telling aspect of art within all forms ranging from script writing to illustration, storyboarding and comic books. I love to get inside the mind of a character by acting out a multitude of responses they may have to scenarios.
